Browsium Browser Management Assessment

Two weeks, your data, real results. Comprehensive assessment shines light into the dark corners of your browser-based application estate.

The Browsium Browser Management Assessment provides a customized introduction to the essential analytics the Browsium Browser Management Suite can offer your organization – using your client PCs and web applications to illuminate the browser blind spots your existing management tools leave behind.

Browser management is a critical component of modern IT infrastructure. Every enterprise organization depends on web applications, running in a browser, to power their critical business functions. Yet most organizations lack the tools needed to manage this new IT landscape. Managing this modern environment begins with discovery, and discovery begins with a Browsium Browser Management Assessment.

This assessment, tailored for your organization, provides a snapshot of the information you're missing using your current IT operations management tools, along with key insights to help you improve IT security and save your organization money. Just configure data collection from select end users, let them perform their normal job functions for two weeks, then Browsium experts will provide the findings. No systems to build, no servers to configure, no software to learn.

The Browser Management Assessment includes support for client configuration and deployment, along with dedicated, private, secure hosting, and delivery of the findings.
